

A GUIDE TO SAEMA USER TRAINING

SAEMA User Training, which was launched at the end of January 2021, is a unique way for those who work at height to be assessed on their technical understanding of the processes and equipment involved. The result is a safer construction industry with fewer workplace accidents.

The training is theory based and can be completed remotely, at the user's convenience. It can be accessed securely on SAEMA's training website (training.saema.org) via the user's computer or smart device.

Upon passing Part 1, the user is issued with a certificate and virtual card which can be checked by Duty Holders in real time when users arrive on site for Part 2 Training. Following successful Part 2 On Site training, the virtual card will be endorsed with the site details which can also be checked in real time by Duty Holders to ensure that users are trained properly in the use the systems on site.

Upon passing the Duty Holder training, the user is issued with a certificate and virtual card.
